tOG-Sports Manager

TV style tactics analysis
tOG-Sports Manager gives you an easy to use yet powerful sports analysis system. It is video clip based, with the prepared DV Video clips residing locally on the system's hard disc so there is no need for an external video server. The manager's interface is via a touch screen and as it was designed to be used live on TV it is extremely easy to use yet delivers powerful analysis tools. The output screen is a regular low cost TV screen.

Easy to Set Up, Easy to Use
Our user interface is widely regarded as the best in the industry - and so it should be as some leading sports broadcasters such as Sky Sports had considerable input into its design. It is quick and easy to set up, and the user interface palette and graphics themselves are easily customised via the operator interface for preferences and team colours. In addition, there is a virtual stadium view which can be used for interactive formation and tactic analysis

Workflow
With dual screen operation, your video analyst can use the powerful operator interface to create complex sequences of graphics events, arrows, circles, line tracks and so are easily added and keyframed against video timecode. The finished sequence can be exported in any standard video format to be played on your coaches' tablets or smartphones so they can coach your players anywhere!

With the touch screen interface, tOG Sports becomes an invaluable and easy to use presentation tool to larger audiences. Interact easily with the graphic tools on tOG Sports Manager to aid understanding of tactical explanations, coach a whole team at a time.

The tOG-Sports Story
tOG-Sports started life in 2008 when Sky Sports wanted to refresh the technology used by Andy Gray on the Final Word weekly wrap up show. The product received first hand input into the touch screen user interface—where ease of use was the #1 priority.
